Pub(Misc) No. 3 302/49 6/8/49.

48. HOLIDAYS: Mondays are general holidays in the State instead of Sundays. It is declared as a weekly holiday because it is the day of the Antillery of the diety of the ruling family Sri Karthikaswamy. Every Sunday the Government offices work in the morning from 8 A.M. to 12 Noon as it is a shandy day.

A (M) The system of holidays may continue till Sandur is administratively incorporated in Bellary district when the holidays notified by the Madras Government will come into force. A list of holdidays observed in the State for the year 1949 is enclosed.

49. TILL the state is formed into a separate taluk and the several departments amalgamated with those in Bellary district I consider that the continuance of the present Establishment is necessary. This may be sanctioned.

50. GENERAL: As already stated in the several previous paragraphs I think it is essential that as little as possible by way of amenities, etc. which they have enjoyed so far should be taken away from the people, so that they may not compare the present Government unfavourably with the Rajah's rule as they will do if anything is taken away. This may mean extra expenditure but I consider that any other course would be a tactical error, if it is decired that the people of the State should not look back on the "Good old days" of the Rajah's Rule.

EXTRACT of Board's remarks, No.W.4366/49-2, dated 14-7-1949.

A 20. HOLIDAYS: The Board agrees with the Collector of Bellary and recommends that the local holiday may be continued till the end of this year (1949) and the holidays observed in this province may be introduced to Sandur from the 1st January 1950 onwards. The holiday on Sunday may be welcomed by the State subjects as it is the "Shandy day".

B alone. No ~~general~~ orders seem to have been issued regarding the application of the general holidays to Banganapalle and Pudukkottai with effect from any particular date. Presumably the general holidays (other than Sundays) were observed in these merged States on from the date of merger itself.

Remarks of this department are called for with reference to A on p. 1 ante.

In the case of Banganapalle and Pudukkottai, Sri V. V. Kudva, I.C.S. Member Board of Revenue while submitting a detailed report about the administration of the said states suggested that the weekly holiday might be changed from Friday to Sunday. This ~~secretariat~~ suggestion was accepted and orders were issued accordingly by the Public Genl & department.

In the case of Sandur, the Board ~~considers~~ recommends that the local holiday now in force in may be continued till the end of this year. Its recommendation may be accepted. It does not therefore seem necessary to change the weekly holiday from Friday to Sunday with immediate effect. through Section
